€375. That's the official fee for a deed and its registration at a Casa Pronta office in Portugal.

For clients who live abroad, the fee is rarely the obstacle. The signature is. In Google's autocomplete for Portuguese speakers in Luxembourg, France and Switzerland, "escritura casa" (the house deed) is among the top ten searches about buying in Portugal.

The official sources say no flight is needed. A power of attorney signed at a Portuguese consulate, or before a local notary with the Hague Apostille, lets a representative sign the promissory contract and the deed.

What the official pages say about the closing itself:
· Casa Pronta does the deed and the land registration in one sitting: €375, €700 with a mortgage, €50 per extra property.
· It asks for the ID and tax numbers of both parties, the usage license or its waiver, and the energy certificate.
· Lawyer and notary fees are separate.

For banks, advisers and developers with clients abroad, the signature sets the calendar.

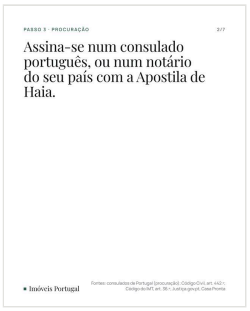

The full guide, with every source, is in the first comment.

93 659 Portugais vivaient au Luxembourg au recensement de 2021, soit 14,5 % de la population (STATEC).

Pour les banques, les conseillers et les fiduciaires du Grand-Duché, un achat au Portugal pose vite une question pratique : faut-il prendre l'avion pour signer ?

La réponse des sources officielles est non. La procuration se signe :
· dans un consulat du Portugal, sans autre formalité ;
· ou devant un notaire luxembourgeois, avec l'apostille de La Haye.

Ensuite, l'acte et l'enregistrement se font en une seule fois au guichet Casa Pronta : 375 €, ou 700 € avec une hypothèque.

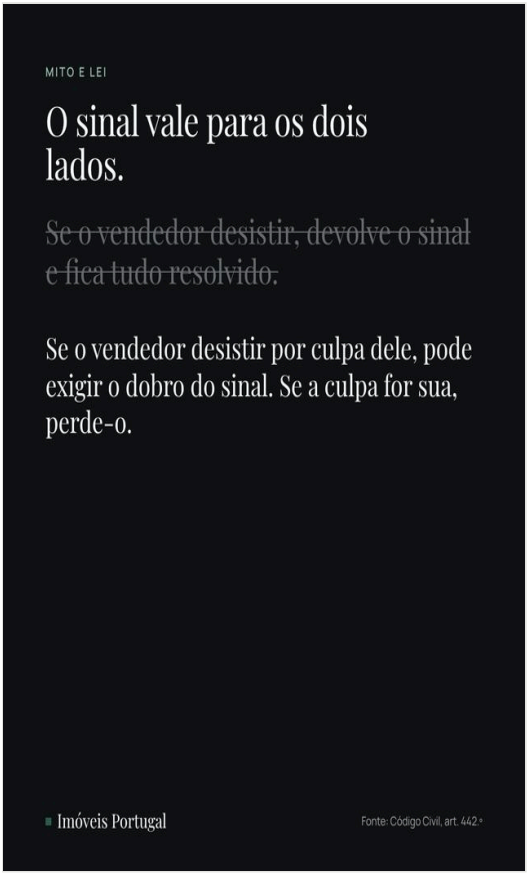

Le Luxembourg étant dans l'UE, le représentant fiscal au Portugal reste facultatif après l'achat (Lei Geral Tributária, art. 19).

Notre guide, sources à l'appui, est dans le premier commentaire.

Proof of funds is part of the closing calendar in Portugal.

Under Lei 83/2017, banks, notaries and lawyers are obliged entities: they must obtain information on the origin of funds when the risk profile or the operation calls for it. Businesses carrying out real-estate activities must identify their clients, with photo ID, before the deal.

For a client who signs from abroad by power of attorney, the check still happens. The documents travel; the client doesn't.

What this means for the professionals around a cross-border purchase:
· the bank sending the money and the lawyer holding the power of attorney can both ask for the origin of the funds;
· a file that is ready before the promissory contract keeps the deed date;
· the transfer tax (IMT) is due on the day it's assessed or within the next 30 days, so the money has to be in place early.

Wealth managers and transfer providers who prepare that file are part of the closing.

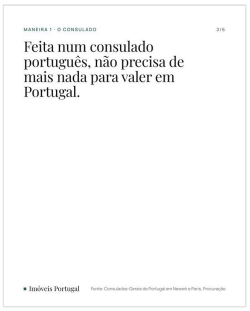

Sources and the full guide are in the first comment.

$10,000. When a US person's foreign accounts add up to more than that at any time in the year, an FBAR is due (IRS).

It matters for anyone helping an American client buy in Portugal from home. A Portuguese bank account opened to pay the deposit counts toward that threshold.

What the official sources say about closing from the US:
· The power of attorney is signed before a US notary with the Hague Apostille, or at a Portuguese consulate, such as the one in Newark.
· Deed and registration at Casa Pronta cost €375, about $420 at the ECB rate of October 23, 2026.
· Living outside the EU, the owner appoints a tax representative in Portugal or joins the electronic notifications within 15 days of owning the home.

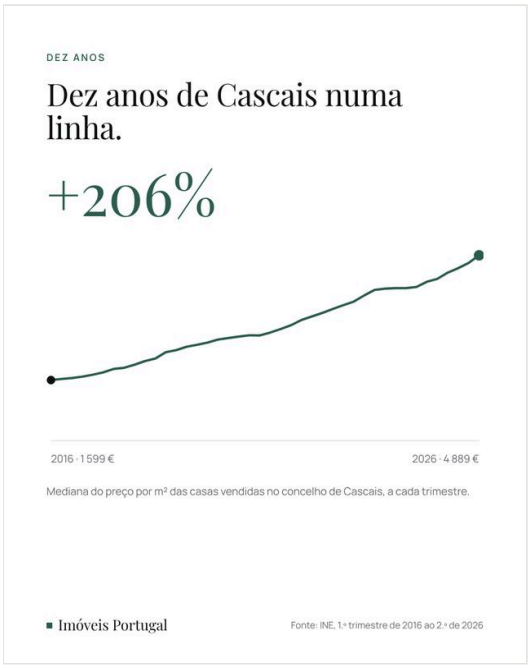

For US advisers, CPAs and wealth managers, the Portuguese closing and the US filing calendar run on the same dates.

The full guide and its sources are in the first comment.

10 853 CHF : le prix médian du m² d'un appartement en PPE dans le canton de Genève en 2024 (OCSTAT). Au taux BCE du 23 octobre 2026, 11 762 €.

Au Portugal, ce montant achète 2,3 m² à Lisbonne, 2,4 à Cascais, 2,8 à Loulé et 3,2 à Porto, au prix médian de l'INE du 2e trimestre 2026.

Pour les gérants de fortune et les conseillers en Suisse romande, deux règles comptent :
· le 2e pilier ne finance que la résidence principale, en Suisse ou à l'étranger, pas une résidence secondaire (OFAS) ;
· la Suisse est hors UE et EEE : après l'achat, un représentant fiscal au Portugal ou l'adhésion aux notifications électroniques est obligatoire.

La signature se fait à distance : procuration au consulat du Portugal, ou chez un notaire genevois avec l'apostille de La Haye.

Méthode : canton et non ville, 2024 face à 2026, médianes des deux côtés.

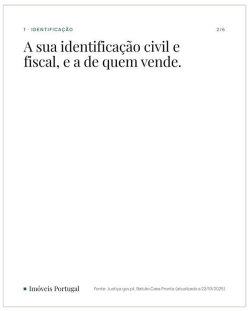

Notre guide est dans le premier commentaire.

Thread: Can I buy a house in Portugal without being there to sign? (to find: a recent thread asking this; if none, the person posting decides whether a new post fits th e rules)

Short answer: yes. Portuguese law lets someone sign for you under a power of attorney (procuração), so you don't need to be at the table for the promissory contract (CPCV) or the deed (escritura).

Two ways to sign the power of attorney from where you live

1. At a Portuguese consulate. It's done there as a Portuguese notarial act, so nothing else is needed for it to work in Portugal. The Consulates General in Newark and Paris, for example, list it under their notary services.
2. Before a local notary. Then it needs the Hague Apostille, added in the country where it was signed, to take effect in Portugal.

The wording matters as much as the signature. A power of attorney names who acts for you, for which property, and what they can sign and pay. It's usually drafted by the lawyer in Portugal who handles the purchase, so the office doing the deed accepts it the first time.

Other points that come up when you buy from abroad

- The deposit. Under article 442 of the Civil Code, if you back out of the CPCV through your own fault you lose the deposit; if the seller backs out through theirs, you can claim double.
- Proof of funds. Banks, notaries and lawyers are obliged entities under the anti-money-laundering law (Lei 83/2017) and ask where the money comes from when the risk or the deal calls for it. Having the paperwork ready keeps the deed date.
- The deed. At a Casa Pronta office the deed and the land registration happen in one sitting: €375, or €700 with a mortgage, plus €50 per extra property (justica.gov.pt). They ask for ID and tax numbers for both sides, the usage license or its waiver, and the energy certificate. Lawyer and notary fees are separate.
- After the deed. If you live outside the EU/EEA, you have 15 days from owning the property to appoint a tax representative or sign up for the tax office's electronic notifications. Inside the EU it's optional.

You can still fly in for a viewing or for the keys; you just don't have to for the signatures. For your own case (what the POA should cover, joint owners, a mortgage), a lawyer in Portugal is the person to ask.

No balcão Casa Pronta, a escritura e o registo fazem-se no mesmo momento e custam 375 € numa compra com um só ato de registo. Se houver crédito à habitação com hipoteca, são 700 €, e cada imóvel adicional soma 50 €. São os valores publicados no site da Justiça (justica.gov.pt). Os honorários do advogado e do notário que faz a procuração são à parte e variam de caso para caso.

Assinar a partir do estrangeiro

Não é preciso estar em Portugal. Uma procuração permite que outra pessoa, muitas vezes um advogado, assine o contrato-promessa e a escritura em seu nome. Pode ser feita de duas maneiras:

1. Num consulado português. Feita no consulado, não precisa de mais nada para valer em Portugal. Os consulados-gerais em Paris e em Newark, por exemplo, tratam de procurações nos serviços de notariado.
2. Num notário do país onde vive. Nesse caso leva a Apostila de Haia, para valer em Portugal.

O texto conta tanto como a assinatura: diz quem o representa, para que imóvel e o que pode assinar e pagar.

O que a Casa Pronta pede

A identificação civil e fiscal das duas partes, a licença de utilização ou a sua dispensa (depende da data de construção, com a linha em 7 de agosto de 1951), o certificado energético e a ficha técnica da habitação, se existir.

Os outros custos e prazos

O Imposto do Selo é de 0,8% do valor. O IMT depende da sua situação e paga-se no dia da liquidação ou nos 30 dias seguintes. No contrato-promessa, o sinal vale nos dois sentidos: se desistir por culpa sua, perde-o; se a culpa for do vendedor, pode exigir o dobro (Código Civil, art. 442.º). Depois da escritura, quem vive fora da UE tem 15 dias para nomear um representante fiscal ou aderir às notificações eletrónicas das Finanças.

Para o seu caso concreto, por exemplo uma compra a dois ou com crédito, é um advogado em Portugal quem pode aconselhar.
